Mysuru, Aug. 10 (BLU&BCT)- The Karnataka High Court has dismissed a Public Interest Litigation (PIL) petition that raised concerns about Mysuru City Corporation's (MCC) plan to demolish and reconstruct the 137-year-old Devaraja Market (built in 1886) due to its deteriorated condition.

A Division Bench, headed by Chief Justice Prasanna B. Varale and Justice M.G.S. Kamal, issued the ruling on August 8 while rejecting a petition filed in 2020 by D. Shrijay Devaraj, Raja Chandra, Gouri Satya, Yashaswini Sharma and N. Niranjan Nikam.

Talk on yoga, pranayama for senior citizens

Mysuru, Aug. 10- Mysore Open Forum has organised a talk on 'Yoga & Pranayama for Senior Citizens' by Rathna Rao, former President, Baba Ramdevji Patanjali Yog Samiti, Mysuru, at Kalpa Kshetra Auditorium, #581/1, Vijayanagar 4th Stage, 1st Phase, Mysuru, on Aug. 13 at 10.30 am. [Mob: 94498-19536]

Rathna Rao

Rathna Rao did her Post Graduation (PG) from Manasagangothri, Mysuru and was serving as a PG Teacher in Kendriya Vidyalayas in several parts of India and took voluntary retirement at Kendriya Vidyalaya, Mysuru, in 2004. Being a practitioner of Yoga from her younger days, she underwent training from Art of Living, Inner Engineering and others in Yoga, Reiki, Acupuncture, Mudras etc.

She was in the first batch of teachers to be trained by Baba Ramadevji at Patanjali Yog Peeth, Haridwar, in 2005. She was made the President of Patanjali Yog Samiti, Mysuru, in 2006. Since then, she has been training teachers in Yoga in several parts of India and in the US.

Pranayama builds mental strength when it comes to concentration, memory and stress reduction. It brings serenity to our mental activity as it increases oxygen supply to the entire body. It promotes relaxation and mindfulness. Yoga and simple asanas are linked to improved cognitive action and better skills. Practice of Yogasanas is crucial to maintaining good health and well-being especially among senior citizens.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Life turns so serious sometimes that we forget we're endowed with a 'funny bone.' Idiomatically used to describe a sense of humour within each of us, it's educative to know that the 'funny bone' in the body isn't a bone but is the ulnar nerve that crosses the elbow on its journey from the side of the neck, along the humerus (well named!) known as shoulder bone and ends at the fingers.

Apart from this, tickling the funny bone within us, can prove a panacea for many an illness. A cousin of mine, who was an Orthopaedic Surgeon, knowing he was terminally ill designed the rear side of his memorial card with a sketch of a pack of dogs gathered outside a bone clinic, seemingly suggesting to one another, "bones to be had here"!

Seeing situations in a lighter vein, instead of being offended by them or getting hurt at perceived insults, are best dealt with by displaying a sense of humour. Come up with a quick repartee.

A bit of humour can diffuse mighty tensions. Remember the famous 'hug' and 'wink' Rahul Gandhi lavished on our PM once in Parliament, to defuse an uncomfortable parley? Laugh it off. Let it in through one eye or a ear and out the other. Chase away the sleight with deft words, instead of using physical might.

Patience today seems to be wearing thin across the world. Yes, impatience seems to be the buzzword and leads to displays of anger, destruction, injury and killing of whatever or whoever is in sight. Does this lead to a solution to problems bothering us? No, not at all! To my mind, it only increases frustration, compounding senseless violence.

I want to hark back to the good old days of Parliamentary sessions post Independence, when the bitterest of debates between different political parties were amicably settled by the quintessential art of brilliant, respectful humour to foil the foe.

The scenario today is quite the opposite, perhaps because a sense of humour is missing. How about bringing that funny bone to the fore once more? It is creative, stimulates the brain to explore our wit within, and, elicit a smile devoid of malice or vengeance, a challenging repartee. Try a dose of it daily, for fun too. Life becomes easier.

Mayor hauls in cocaine during fishing trip

Tampa Bay: While on a fishing trip with her family in late July, Tampa Bay Mayor Jane Castor reeled in a big catch — about 70 pounds of cocaine valued at about 1.1 million dollars.

The seizure occurred July 23, with the chief border patrol agent of the Miami Sector, Walter Slosar, saying his agents recovered the narcotics concealed in bricks wrapped in what appears to have been cellophane and adorned with a picture of a pink and blue butterfly.

The Mayor said that the drugs were found in a package adrift in the Atlantic Ocean as she and other family members were fishing. While other family members were perplexed by the package bobbing in the ocean, Castor, who spent 31 years in the Tampa Police Department said she knew what it was.

Lighten the burden of toll on Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway

Sir,

With the completion of the Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway, travelling has become a delightful experience. The 118-km journey feels effortless and the seamless connectivity is truly commendable. However, one concern that needs attention is the lack of rest areas or refreshment spots along the way, which I hope will be addressed in due course.

Currently, the toll for a car amount to Rs. 320 for a one-way trip and Rs. 485 for a round trip on the same day. Many find these toll charges exorbitantly high and unacceptable. It would be more reasonable if they don't charge for both ways when a motorist is returning on the same day. Alternatively, the toll charge could be based on the number of kilometres travelled, which might be a fairer approach.

Due to the high toll charges, some motorists are taking the exit before the toll booth and re-entering the Expressway after passing the toll booth. This has led to a loss of revenue for the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI).

To address this issue, I suggest having only one toll booth at the exit point and all other exit points, except for the city exits, should be closed. The roads from these exits should be connected outside the exit points, leading to the city road. This will not only prevent revenue loss but also encourage a more efficient flow of traffic.

As the toll collection is expected to continue for years, the NHAI should carefully consider whether a lighter toll would attract more vehicles on the road, leading to higher overall collections. On the other hand, a heavier toll might deter motorists from using the Expressway. Striking the right balance is crucial and the decision ultimately lies with the NHAI.

Traditional book collections making way for digital libraries

Dr. N.G. Satish (second from right), former Professor of Institute of Public Enterprise, Hyderabad, is seen with (from left) Prof. M.S. Sapna, Chairperson of the Department of MCJ, Prof. N.S. Harinarayana, Chairman of the DoS in LIS and Prof. K.S. Raghavan of SRELS.

Mysuru, Aug. 10 (GA&DM)- Dr. N.G. Satish, former Professor of Institute of Public Enterprise, Hyderabad, said that as the digital revolution gains momentum, traditional book collections are no longer sufficient to meet the diverse needs of today's users.

He was delivering a lecture on the topic 'Reflections on Reordering Ranganathan' organised by the Department of Studies (DoS) in Library and Information Science (LIS), University of Mysore (UoM) and Sarada Ranganathan Endowment for Library Science (SRELS), as part of librarians' day celebration in commemoration of the 131st birth anniversary of Dr. S.R. Ranganathan, at Dr. S.R. Ranganathan Hall, DoS in LIS, Manasagangothri, yesterday.

Stressing on the need for exploring the five core principles proposed by Dr. S.R. Ranganathan, who was affectionately considered as the 'Father of the Indian Library Movement,' Dr. Satish observed that the five laws have served as the cornerstones for library services.

Highlighting the crucial points that guide the evolution of libraries in the modern-day context, he said that readers are paramount in libraries. He advised librarians to deepen their connections with user communities, align services with users' key needs and seize every opportunity to showcase library expertise. He also emphasised the essential qualities of a modern librarian and urged librarians to embrace entrepreneurship, reimagining their roles in fake news identification, competitive intelligence, technical writing and more.

Prof. M.S. Sapna, Chairperson of the Dept. of Mass Communication and Journalism (MCJ), called for rigorous digitisation activities to be taken up by the libraries. She said that libraries should involve themselves in community building activities by way of projecting themselves in social media, print media and electronic media through talks, write-ups and reports pertaining to libraries. Information professionals with market research and data mining skills will have better employment opportunities, she added.

Prof. N.S. Harinarayana, Chairman of the DoS in LIS, in his address, said Dr. S.R. Ranganathan pushed for accessible information, advocating upon access in libraries more than a century ago. His works like Five Laws of Library Science, Colon classification and others are revered, he added.

Prof. K.S. Raghavan of SRELS too spoke on the occasion. Faculty of the Department of LIS - Prof. M. Chandrashekara, Prof. H. Adithya Kumari, Dr. M. Sunil Kumar and Dr. B. Niveditha, former faculty Dr. Shalini R. Urs, Dr. Khaisar Jahan Begum and Dr. Mallinath Kumbar, former UoM Librarian Dr. C.P. Ramasesh and UoM Librarian Dr. P. Sarasvathi were present.

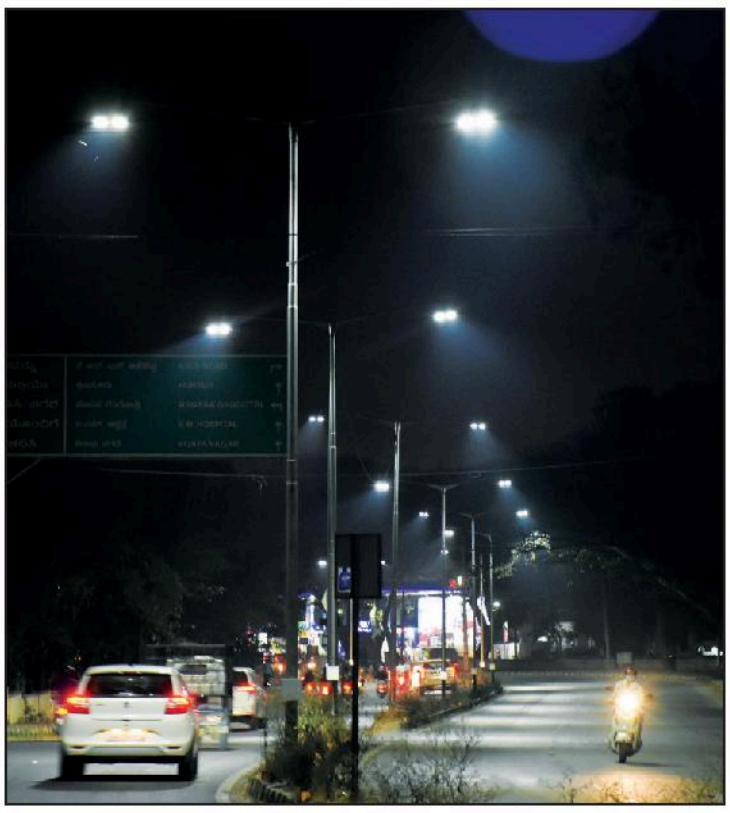
MCC saves Rs. 2.04 cr. on light bill

Use of LED bulbs cuts Rs. 3 crore bill to Rs. 70 lakh a month



Mysuru, Aug. 10 (GA&BS)- Mysuru City Corporation's (MCC) switch over to LED streetlights has turned out to be not just a major energy saver, but expenditure too, with the cut in electricity bill by 68 percent. The monthly electricity bill has reduced to Rs. 70 lakh against the earlier Rs. 3 crore.

The MCC has incorporated self-operated timer system, with the operation and supervision of the lights under Central Control Monitoring System. Under the system, the total of 75,000 streetlights will automatically turn on at 6.30 pm and turn off at 6.30 am in all the 65 wards of the city.

Over 300 streetlights are yet to be brought under the new system, with the switch boards being manually operated. But the switch boards are in a dangerous state with the wires fixed to switch on and off the lights, easily accessible. During evening time, one has to fuse the wires to turn on the light. Any minute error is sure to invite trouble, owing to lack of better system in place.

Even though MCC has entrusted the maintenance of street lights to contractors by calling a special tender, they are ineffective in handling the job. It is due to the negligence of contractors that, the people at some localities turn on and off the lights on their own.

Executive Engineer of MCC Electrical Division T.S. Satyamurthy said "Following the installation of 75,000 LED bulbs across the city, there is a cut in electricity bill. The Central Control Monitoring System is set up at Vani Vilas Water Works (VVWW), through which the lights are turned on and off with a self-operating system in place. By deploying this system, we can control the streetlights with the help of software that can be even operated by mobile. The remaining 200 to 300 streetlights will also be brought under the technology soon."

The elephant count in Karnataka has risen to 6,395 this year, exhibiting growth from 6,049 in 2017, according to the elephant census report released by the State's Forest Department. The report was officially released in Bengaluru yesterday by Forest and Environment Minister Eshwar Khandre.

Previously, the projected count was 5,740 in 2010, reaching 6,072 in 2012 before a decline in 2017. Typically conducted every five years at the national level, the last comprehensive elephant population estimation was carried out in 2017.

In 2022, there was an attempt to integrate it into the All India Tiger Estimation. However, this methodology did not incorporate the sample block count and population structure assessment.

Karnataka, Kerala, and Tamil Nadu took the initiative and conducted synchronised elephant population estimations from May 17 to 19 in 2023, employing both direct and indirect methodologies. A parallel exercise was also executed in Andhra Pradesh on the same dates.

The Elephant Population estimation exercise in Karnataka was conducted by the Karnataka Forest Department, with technical support provided by the Indian Institute of Science (IISc), under the guidance of ecologist Prof. Raman Sukumar.

The estimation process encompassed direct count, dung count and waterhole count methods across 32 Forest Divisions, of which 23 reported elephant sightings during the exercise. Approximately 3,400 Forest personnel were involved in the elephant count across an area spanning approximately 6,104 square kilometres.

The survey was done in 6,104 sq. km area, out of the 18,975 sq. km area which is present in these 23 Divisions, as the area is frequently used by the elephants.

Out of the total estimated count of 6,395 elephants, approximately 161 were identified within private lands, including coffee estates, which pose unique conservation challenges.

The report suggests that while these private lands could serve as additional elephant habitats, they could also present obstacles to conservation efforts and harmonious coexistence between humans and wildlife.

Regarding the reasons behind the increase in elephant numbers, Prof. Raman Sukumar explained that during the 2017 elephant estimation in Karnataka, many elephants migrated to Kerala due to dry conditions. In the 2023 estimation, improved conditions in Karnataka might have prompted several elephants to return to their native habitat.

Additionally, the 2023 estimation encompassed elephant concentrations within coffee plantations in Hassan and Kodagu, contributing to the rise in numbers.

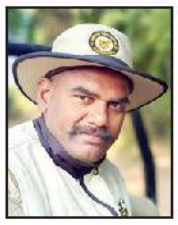
Conservation efforts pay off



"The Bandipur Tiger Reserve has achieved several achievements in the protected area for all wild animals, particularly tigers and elephants, all made possible through the collaboration of our community and the people of the forest villages. The increase in the number of tigers and elephants is due to the systematic conservation of forest resources."

—Dr. P. Ramesh Kumar, Director, Bandipur Tiger Reserve

Over 104 Namma Clinics to operate from 12 noon to 8 pm

Bengaluru, Aug. 10 (OSR)- One-fourth (104) of the 415 Namma Clinics situated in Karnataka (11 in Mysuru district) are set to adjust their operational hours, offering their Outpatient Department services from noon until 8 pm.

This alteration aims to accommodate labourers and enhance their access to the clinics.

Presently, these clinics operate between 9 am to 12.30 pm and then from 2 pm to 4.30 pm. Unfortunately, these hours overlap with the work schedules of labourers, preventing them from benefiting from the facility. A communication from the office of Health and Family Welfare Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao revealed this issue.

Though the possibility of implementing a two-shift system was considered, it was deemed not feasible due to a shortage of medical professionals. As per the new plan, the selected clinics will open at 7 am, with only the lab technician available during the morning hours. Nurses and doctors will commence their shifts at 12 noon.

Should these revised schedules prove effective during the trial phase, similar adjustments could potentially be applied across all Namma Clinics. Across the State, over eight lakh individuals have received medical treatment at Namma Clinics, averaging 35-40 visitors per clinic on a daily basis.

Additionally, the clinic's laboratories have conducted tests for 2.8 lakh individuals. Dinesh Gundu Rao mentioned that gradual measures would be taken to progressively enhance the quality of healthcare services provided by the clinics.

Petitioners to question HC order in Supreme Court

Mahadev, the President of the Devaraja Market Tenants Association, too was unhappy with the High Court's (HC) verdict. He indicated that the traders will promptly convene a meeting to discuss further action upon receiving the verdict copies. Seeking legal advice from their Lawyers, they will proceed with their next course of action.

Meanwhile, MCC Commissioner Ashaad-ur-Rahman Shariff said that they will await the copies from the Court to study the aspects of the judgement that ruled in favour of the demolition. "The Court has ruled in our favour and we have to study the judgement before taking any decision," he said.

Lack of expert professionals

Arguing on behalf of MCC before the Court, Advocate Geetha stated that currently there is a lack of expert professionals available for the scientific renovation of Devaraja Market. The argument presented was that there is no alternative but to demolish and reconstruct the Market.

Supporters of preserving and renovating the Market, however, submitted a special expert affidavit to the High Court. They pointed out that Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan Centre for Philosophy and Indian Culture, situated near Kukkarahalli Lake in Mysuru, was also in a deteriorating condition.

The University of Mysore successfully renovated and preserved that building, thus suggesting the possibility of renovating Devaraja Market too. Experts from B.M.S. College of Engineering in Bengaluru also submitted their expert testimony to the High Court. Advocates Dr. Aditya Sondhi and Nidhishri Venugopal based their contention on this affidavit, presenting various aspects.

High Court quashes PIL against demolition of Devaraja Market

They had challenged the MCC's 2019 resolution to demolish the existing market and construct a new one.

The petitioners claimed that the 3.67-acre Devaraja Market structure had been designated as a heritage building in the Master Plan-2031 for Mysuru-Nanjangud Local Planning Area. They argued that the Devaraja Market building had not been thoroughly assessed by professionals with the necessary technology or expertise in the field. Therefore, the resolution to demolish the building due to weakened walls was flawed, according to the petitioners.

In December 2020, the High Court ordered the State Government and the MCC not to proceed with the implementation of the Dec. 10, 2019 resolution of the Special Heritage Committee. This Committee had recommended the demolition and reconstruction of the Devaraja Market.

Heritage Committee endorsement

In the latest Court ruling, the Judges acknowledged that two Heritage Committees, comprising experts, had already endorsed the decision to demolish the deteriorated structure. The Court emphasised that it could not disregard the recommendations of these expert panels, especially considering the imminent threat posed by the old building.

The Court also noted that sections of the Market had collapsed on two separate occasions, once during restoration efforts. Due to a lack of proper maintenance, the northern entrance was damaged by rainwater in 2016. Additionally, in 1981, 150 shops, in 1990, 175 shops, and in 1990, 30 shops were destroyed in a fire.

Following the Court's order to halt the MCC's Dec. 10, 2019 resolution, the MCC established a Heritage Conservation Committee. In April 2022, this Committee also concluded that the dilapidated heritage structure should be demolished and replaced with a new building while preserving the heritage architectural style. The petitioners had contested this decision by the Heritage Conservation Committee.

Contention of petitioners

Although the Devaraja Market building has been designated as a Grade-1 heritage building in the Master Plan-2031 for Mysuru-Nanjangud, the petitioners argued that the Special Heritage Committee had failed to consider various expert opinions suggesting that the Devaraja Market could be restored. They asserted that the structure must be protected and conserved, and any development plan should align with the amendment to Zonal Regulations.

However, the High Court found no grounds to interfere with the Committee's decision and rejected the petitioner's argument that the Structural Engineer on the Committee lacked the necessary specialisation in Structural Engineering. The Court's investigation revealed that this Structural Engineer was a retired expert who held a Master's Degree in Structural Engineering from one of the Indian Institutes of Technology (IITs).

It's worth noting that the State Government had established a Task Force that recommended the demolition of Devaraja Market. Additionally, the Heritage Committee had previously opposed this move, suggesting that repairs could be undertaken without resorting to demolition.

MCC's Stray Dog Rehab Centre to open soon

Mayor Shivakumar inspecting the MCC Stray Dog Rehabilitation Centre at Rayanakerehundi in the outskirts of city as Deputy Mayor Dr.G. Roopa, Corporators and MCC Officers look on.

Mysuru, Aug. 10 (RK&BS)- In what may help in checking the menace of stray dogs in city, a first of its kind Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Stray Dog Rehabilitation Centre built at the cost of Rs. 3 crore on the outskirts on Rayanakerehundi on Mysuru - H.D. Kote Road will be opened soon.

Mayor Shivakumar led a team of Corporators and Officers inspected the Centre, the works of which have reached its final stage, this morning.

The Centre has come up on 2.17 acres of land, with MCC utilising its own funds to build the facility. It has Operation Theatre and other required facilities that will be handled by a veterinary doctor once the facility becomes functional.

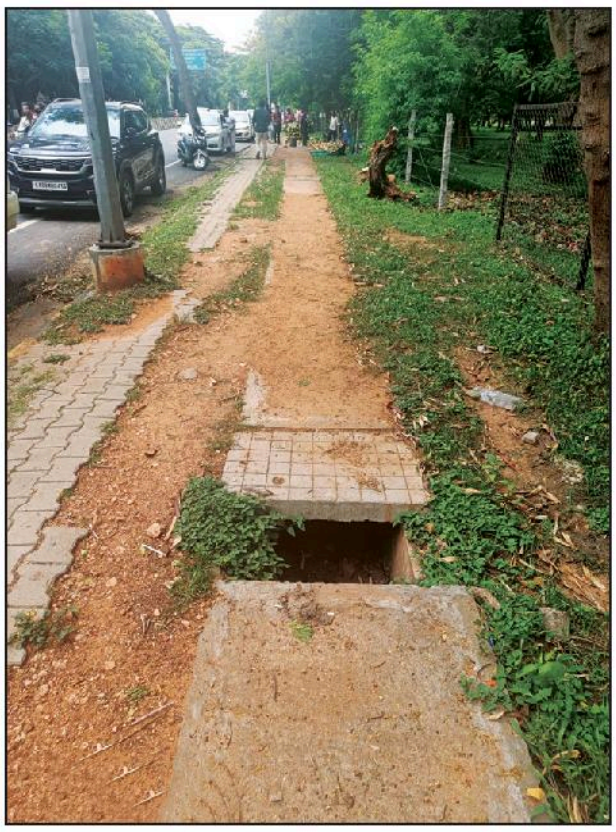
The main aim is to treat ferocious and sick stray dogs found on the streets and release them back to their habitat (from where they were picked up) later.

Pig Centre

A Stray Pig Rehabilitation Centre is also coming up on 2.5 acres of land, adjacent to the Dog Rehab Centre, at an estimated cost of Rs. 2.75 crore. The first phase of works spending Rs. 1 crore are already completed.

Deputy Mayor Dr. G. Roopa, Corporators SBM Manju, M.U. Subbaiah and Ashwini Ananthu, MCC Senior Health Officer Dr. D.G. Nagaraj, Health Officer Dr. Harsha, in-charge Executive Engineer T.S. Satyamurthy, Superintending Engineer Sindhu and other Officers were present.

Missing footpath slabs invite danger



Mysuru, Aug. 10 (RK&BS)- On one hand the footpaths are encroached by vendors, severely inconveniencing pedestrians, while on the other hand footpath slabs have gone missing inviting danger.

This is the pathetic state of the footpath on New Sayyaji Rao Road from KSRTC City Bus Stand towards the west side gate of Mysore Palace. It has been several months since the slab has gone missing and the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Officers have turned a blind eye towards the same. If pedestrians appear negligent, they are sure to slip in the gap. Though the place in question is located in the heart of the city near MCC Main Office, it is regretting that it hasn't come to the notice of Officers and elected representatives who use the same stretch of road daily.

Similarly, concrete footpath slab covering the drain near Administrative Training Institute (ATI) on Lalitha Mahal Road has also gone missing. It is surprising again that, the issue has not come to the notice of Senior Officers and dignitaries who use the same stretch of road.

If pedestrians tread on these footpaths during night, they are sure to fall and get themselves injured. It is high time, MCC Officers wake up and cover the gaps by installing the slabs on the footpaths to avert any danger.

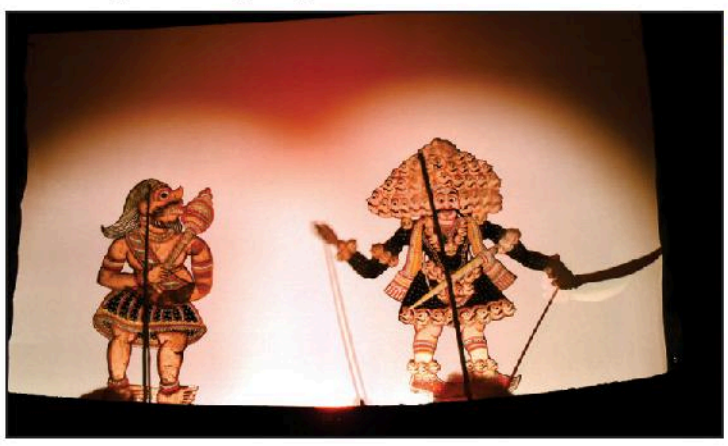
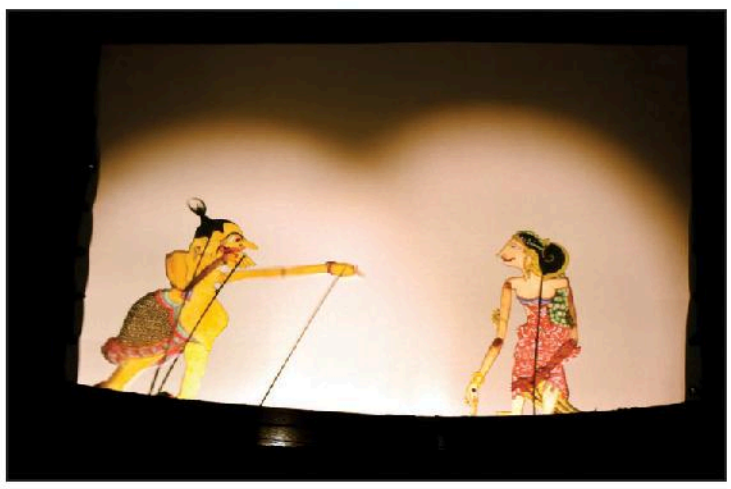
Deputy Director of Rangayana Nirmala Matapathi addressing the gathering at the inauguration of 'Adbhuta Ramayana' puppet show at Dhwanyaloka in the city yesterday.





Mysuru, Aug.10 (PM&DM)- The Epic 'Ramayana' came alive in the 'Adbhuta Ramayana' puppet show organised by Dharwad's Puppet House in association with Sanchalana Mysuru, at Dhwanyaloka on Bogadi road here yesterday.

The Puppet show was enacted by theatre artists Gautam, Kavya, Rajendra, Raju Gadag, Darshan and Srikanth, who practiced the show at Dhwanyaloka itself for a fortnight.They were trained by theatre Director Rajani Garuda of Dharwad.

Speaking after inaugurating the show, Joint Director of Kannada and Culture department V.N. Mallikarjunaswamy said that "Puppet show is a performing art that was in existence even before Cinema."

Pointing out that String Puppetry and Yakshagana Bombeyaata (Doll Dance) are theatrical counterpart of Puppet show, Mallikarjunaswamy said that the puppet show demands more technical skills and efforts when compared to similar forms of art.

Noting that puppetry lost its dominance after the advent of cinema, Mallikarjunaswamy stressed on the need for promotion of the art and its sustenance for future generations.Recalling that Ballari's Belagal Veeranna had conducted puppet shows at the international level, he said that the department would extend all support for training the youth in puppetry.

Theatre Director Rajani Garuda said that renowned theatre personality of North Karnataka Kandagal Hanumantharaya had scripted 'Adbhuta Ramayana' and performed it through his drama company. Five-day Rangavalli Ranga Sambhrama opens

A feast for film songs, light music, karaoke music, brass band lovers daily from 4.30 pm

Mysuru, Aug. 10 (MK&SSM)- Theatre person Mime Ramesh inaugurated the five-day Rangavalli Ranga Sambhrama in city yesterday.

The programme is organised by Rangavalli, an amateur theatre troupe from Mysuru, in collaboration with the Directorate of Kannada and Culture, Bengaluru. The inaugural event took place at Kiru Rangamandira (Mini Theatre) in Kalamandira premises.

Dr. Purushotham Bilimale, a retired professor from Jawaharlal Nehru University (JNU), New Delhi and a folk scholar, presided over the event. He highlighted that India boasts over 19,600 languages, more than 4,000 communities and 24 or more regional variations. It's like a Rangoli made of various colours and the damage to any one of the colours can destroy the Rangoli.

Dr. Bilimale said that "We have the collective responsibility of seeing to it that no colours of India is destroyed. It's a tremendous pleasure that we've been living with such generations who have been preserving the colours of the country." Personalities like B.V Karanth, Girish Karnad, Lankesh and others have tirelessly strived to preserve the colours of Rangavalli, recalled Dr. Purushotham.

He pointed out that art provides an escape from our hectic lives and that life and art transcend what we merely observe and experience. Direct experiences often evoke heartfelt responses. He urged that plays not should not only be derived from literary works, but also from folk stories.

Mime Ramesh described theatre as a platform that encapsulates humanity and social consciousness. He highlighted how artists form a supportive community, standing by each other during trying times. Theatre, according to him, is a place where individuals present themselves authentically before the audience.

During the event, Vidu. Vasavi and Vidu. Harinakshi presented a light music event. Joint Director of the Kannada and Culture Department, Mysuru, V.N. Mallikarjunaswamy, Deputy Director of Rangayana, Mysuru, Nirmala Matapath, Assistant Director of Kannada and Culture Department, Mysuru, M.D. Sudarshan and Founder-Member and Convenor of Rangavalli H.R. Raviprasad were present.

In honour of the renowned photojournalist late Nethra Raju, a variety of programmes, including film songs, light music, karaoke mus ic and brass band performances, will take place daily till Aug. 13 at 4.30 pm. The events will unfold on a stage near Kiru Rangamandira. Additionally, theatrical plays will be staged at Kiru Rangamandira at 7 pm during the five-day Ranga Sambhrama.

WORD OF THE DAY

Thwart

Pronunciation: THWORT.
Meaning: To effectively oppose or prevent. To thwart a person is to prevent them from doing something, and to thwart a thing is to stop it from happening.
Origin: Today we mostly use thwart as a verb to mean "to defeat or oppose successfully" but a lesser-known meaning of the word is "to pass through or across." And it's that sense that points to the origin of this odd-sounding word. In early Middle English, thwert was an adverb meaning "across" or "transversely," used to describe how something lies across the length of something else. The verb thwerten came from this adverb and eventually became thwart. The link between the meanings becomes clear if you think of thwarting a plan, effort, etc., as blocking a road or path, thereby impeding another's progress. And if you're at cross-purposes with someone, you two are mutually — even if unintentionally — thwarting each other's plans.
Example: "In the 1990s, the beer company Old Style aired a series of ads starring Dennis Farina, the Chicago-born actor who's been typecast for most of his career as a cop. In them, Farina plays the role of a detective tasked with thwarting out-of-towners, specifically from New York and Los Angeles, from loading cans of Old Style into vans to take back to home. 'The Old Style Light you drink is one they'll never get,' he says in the ad. 'It's our great beer, and they can't have it.'" — Luke Fortney, Eater.com, 17 Feb. 2023.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Teamwork makes the dream work

Meaning: The term teamwork makes the dream work is a common phrase that means it is easier to complete a goal when you team up with someone and work together to reach it. Put another way, cooperating with another person towards a mutually desired goal is more effective than just doing it by yourself.
Origin: How long has this expression been around? The phrase teamwork makes the dream work appears to have originated relatively recently. More specifically, as early as 2002. So while teamwork has been around for thousands of years, this phrase has not been. Noteworthy is an older expression that goes there is no I in team, which is yet another common phrase that emphasises the power and usefulness of collaboration. However, speaking of this phrase in particular, it's first appearance in print is in a book titled Teamwork Makes the Dream Work by John Maxwell, published in the year 2002. It seems that John Maxwell is likely the person who coined the expression.
